“The art of cookery, when not allied with a degenerate taste or with gluttony, is one of the criteria of a people’s civilization.”

“We grow like what we eat ;

Bad food depresses, good food exalts us like an inspiration.”

PREFACE

WITH the advancement of the art of cookery, it has become impossible to compress within the limits of a single volume the wealth of material which is at hand. It is now seventeen years since The Boston Cooking-School Cook Book was first published. Since that time it has been frequently revised and a large number of new recipes added, first in the form of an appendix and addenda, later incorporated in logical order throughout the volume. But the results of the labors and experiments of the last seven years have, I believe, justified the publication of an entirely new work. It will be understood that this new work is in no sense a substitute for my earlier one, but rather a sequel. It is, let me repeat, a comprehensive survey of the progress of the last few years and contains recipes economical and simple as well as expensive and elaborate, covering the whole range of cookery.

My earnest hope is that the book will fulfil a real and vital need. I cannot send it forth without an expression of sincere appreciation for the kindly aid of enthusiastic pupils and devoted teachers.

A New Book of Cookery

CHAPTER I

HOW TO MEASURE AND COMBINE INGREDIENTS

THERE is nothing which has done so much to place cookery on an improved basis as the almost universal introduction of accurate methods in measuring. A generation or two ago each household had its favorite cups and spoons of varying sizes which helped as guides in measuring. It was in these days that one often heard the statement, "Cooks are born, not made." Good judgment coupled with experience taught some to measure by sight, which was a step towards good results, but the vast majority needed definite guides. Thus arose the necessity of uniform measuring cups and spoons which are an essential in every kitchen.

Measuring cups (holding one-half pint), divided into quarters or thirds, are made of tin, graniteware, or glass and may be bought of any dealer in kitchen furnishings or at large department stores. Measuring spoons come in two sizes, the smaller of which is called a teaspoon, the larger a tablespoon. Mixing spoons, which are somewhat larger than tablespoons, should not be confounded with them. A case knife, which is used for levelling as well as dividing ingredients, is also necessary to make measuring as accurate as is possible.

All ingredients are measured level.

A cupful is measured level.

A tablespoonful is measured level.

A teaspoonful is measured level.

TO MEASURE DRY INGREDIENTS

I. By cupfuls.

Put in the ingredient to be measured by spoonfuls or from a scoop, round slightly and level with a case knife for a cupful. For fractions of cupfuls fill in like manner to correct division line indicated in cup. Never shake the cup while filling.

II. By teaspoonfuls or tablespoonfuls.

Dip spoon in ingredient, fill, lift, and level with a case knife having the sharp edge of knife towards tip of spoon. Divide with a case knife lengthwise of spoon for a half spoonful. Divide halves crosswise for quarters, and quarters crosswise for eighths. Less than one-eighth teaspoonful is called a few grains.

TO MEASURE BUTTER, LARD, AND OTHER SOLID FATS

I. By cupfuls.

Pack solidly into cup and level with a case knife for a cupful. For fractions of cupfuls pack in like manner to correct division line indicated in cup.

NECESSARY UTENSILS FOR CORRECT MEASUREMENTS.

FIVE O'CLOCK TEA TRAY.

ACCOMPANIMENTS TO THE FIVE O'CLOCK CUP OF TEA.

II. By teaspoonfuls or tablespoonfuls.

Pack solidly into spoon and level with a case knife. Divide with a case knife lengthwise of spoon for a half spoonful. Divide halves crosswise for quarters, and quarters crosswise for eighths.

TO MEASURE LIQUIDS

I. By cupfuls.

Pour liquid to be measured into cup and fill to very top for cupfuls. A cupful of liquid is all that the cup will hold and cannot be easily moved from one place to another without overflowing. For fractions of cupfuls fill in like manner to correct division line indicated in cup.

II. By teaspoonfuls or tablespoonfuls.

Dip spoon in liquid, fill and lift, taking up all the spoon will hold. When dry ingredients, liquids, and fats are all called for in the same recipe, measure in the order given, thereby using but one cup.

HOW TO COMBINE INGREDIENTS

Next to measuring comes care in combining, — a fact not always recognized by the inexperienced. Three ways are considered, — stirring, beating, and cutting and folding.

To stir, mix by using circular motion, widening the circles until all is blended. Stirring is the motion ordinarily employed in all cookery, alone or in combination with beating.

To beat, turn ingredient or ingredients over and over, continually bringing the under part to the surface, thus allowing the utensil used for beating to be constantly brought in contact with bottom of the dish and throughout the mixture.

To cut and fold, introduce one ingredient into another ingredient or mixture by two motions: with a spoon, a repeated vertical downward motion, known as cutting, and a turning over and over of mixture, allowing bowl of spoon each time to come in contact with bottom of dish, is called folding. These repeated motions are alternated until thorough blending is accomplished.

By stirring, ingredients are mixed; by beating, a large amount of air is inclosed; by cutting and folding, air already introduced is prevented from escaping.

BEVERAGES

Hawaiian Five o'Clock Tea

ALLOW to each cup of five o'clock tea three cubes prepared pineapple cubes and sugar to taste. Stir until thoroughly mixed, add remaining flour, toss on a slightly floured board and knead until mixture is smooth. Return to bowl and cover with a clean cloth and board or tin cover. Let rise at a temperature of 65° F. until mixture has doubled its bulk, the time required being about three hours. Cut down, toss on a slightly floured board, shape into two double loaves and put in buttered pans. Cover, again let rise, and bake in a hot oven fifty-five minutes.

Crossett Rolls

Scald one cup milk, turn into mixing bowl (without a lip), and add one tablespoon, each, lard and butter, and three-fourths teaspoon salt. When lukewarm, add one yeast cake, dissolved in one-fourth cup lukewarm water, and enough flour to knead. Toss on a slightly floured cloth, knead, return to bowl, cover and let rise until mixture has doubled its bulk. Put in ice box and let stand until chilled. Toss on a floured cloth, pat and roll into a long rectangle one-fourth inch in thickness. Dot over with four tablespoons butter and fold from ends towards centre, making three layers. Clean and steam frogs' legs until tender, then add crab meat, butter, salt, paprika and Sherry wine. Cover and let stand thirty minutes. Put on range and cook five minutes. Pour off one-half wine and add mushrooms. Scald cream in double boiler; dilute cornstarch with cold water, add gradually to scalded cream and cook ten minutes, stirring constantly until mixture thickens and afterwards occasionally; then add yolk of egg, slightly beaten.

Add to first mixture, reheat and season highly with salt and cayenne. Fill bouchée cases with mixture or serve with puff paste points.

Sweetbread and Mushroom Patties

Parboil one sweetbread, cool and cut in one-fourth-inch pieces. Clean and peel ten large mushrooms and cut in pieces. Put in a small pan and add one tablespoon butter, one teaspoon lemon juice, one-fourth teaspoon salt and a few grains pepper. Cover and cook fifteen minutes, stirring occasionally. Melt two tablespoons butter, add four tablespoons flour and stir until well blended; then pour on gradually, while stirring constantly, one cup chicken or brown stock. Bring to the boiling point, add sweetbreads, mushrooms and one tablespoon heavy cream. Again bring to the boiling point and season with one-half teaspoon salt and a few grains, each, pepper and paprika. Line patty-pans with puff paste, fill with mixture, cover with pastry tops, brush over with white of egg, slightly beaten, and bake in a moderate oven twenty-five minutes. Serve at once.

Huntington Sweetbreads

Parboil one pair sweetbreads, cool, trim and lard upper surface. Clean and peel twelve mushroom caps and cook in two tablespoons butter two minutes. Add one-fourth cup Sherry wine and cook five minutes.

Wash one-half cup butter, put in a mortar with three tablespoons mashed, boiled sweet potatoes, one-half teaspoon finely cut chives, and one shallot and one clove garlic, each, finely chopped. Work until thoroughly blended; then rub through a sieve. Season with salt and paprika. Cut bread in one-third-inch slices, cut in rounds, toast on one side and spread untoasted sides with prepared butter. Put in four individual baking dishes, over each put a piece of sweetbread, over sweetbread arrange mushroom caps and spread with remaining butter. Pour around heavy cream, allowing two tablespoons to each portion. Put on glass covers and bake in a moderate oven eight minutes.

Glazed Sweetbread Lucullus

Trim sweetbread and parboil in Sherry wine until plump, the time required being about one-half hour. Keep covered during the cooking, turning twice. Cool and cut in pieces. Put one and one-half tablespoons butter in frying pan, and when melted add one-half teaspoon beef extract. Cook sweetbread in mixture until glazed, turning frequently. Drain canned artichoke bottoms and reheat; then arrange on circular pieces of sautéed bread. Place pieces of sweetbread on each and pour around Lucullus Sauce made by adding one cup chopped sautéed mushrooms to one cup tomato sauce.

Macedoine in Aspic

Put three cans tomatoes (quart capacity) in stew-pan and bring to the boiling point. Turn into a purée strainer and force through most of the pulp. Add one and one-half teaspoons onion juice, one and one-half tablespoons salt, one-half cup Sherry wine and a few grains cayenne. Soak two packages granulated gelatine in one cup cold water and add to mixture when cool. Clear, using the white and shell of three eggs; then strain through four thicknesses of cheese-cloth, placed over a fine strainer, and add one-third cup Sherry wine. Cut cold boiled corned tongue in one-inch strips; there should be one and one-third cups. Peel sixteen small tomatoes, by rubbing over the entire surface with the dull edge of a knife, until skins may be easily taken off. Finely chop the breast meat of a raw chicken and force through a meat chopper; there should be three-fourths cup. Pound in a mortar and add gradually whites two eggs and one-half pint heavy cream. Season highly with salt and cayenne and a slight grating of nutmeg; then force through a fine strainer. Shape mixture with a pastry bag and tube on buttered paper, making quenelles. Invert paper into a kettle of boiling salted water (when forms will slip off at once) and cook five minutes. Remove with skimmer and drain on cheese-cloth. Turn an elliptical mound two inches high of cold cooked hominy on a serving dish and spread sides with parsley butter.

Fill an elliptical-shaped border mould with tongue, tomatoes, chicken quenelles and aspic. Fill a charlotte russe mould that will just fit into border mould after same fashion. Fill a muffin tin in same fashion. When thoroughly chilled, turn contents of border mould on hominy, fill space with thick shaped slice of bread, put contents of charlotte russe mould on top and surround with contents of muffin tin. Garnish with spray of holly and serve with Mayonnaise à la Connelly (see p. 214).

If insides of moulds are rubbed very sparingly with olive oil, there will be no trouble in removing the contents.

Moulded Fish in Aspic

Wipe a slice of halibut, remove skin and bones and force fish through a meat chopper; there should be three-fourths pound. Melt three-fourths tablespoon butter, add six tablespoons flour and stir until well blended; then pour on gradually, while stirring constantly, one-third cup fish stock. Bring to the boiling point, add fish and pound in a mortar until thoroughly blended. Add two whole eggs and three egg yolks, two teaspoons salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. When well mixed, add one-half cup heavy cream. Garnish a buttered fish mould with truffle, cut in slices, then in strips to represent tail and fins, and small crescent shapes to represent scales. During the process of garnishing, the pieces of truffle, after being placed, should be frequently sprinkled with some of the liquid drained from truffles, otherwise they will become dry and curl. It is desirable after a portion is completed to cover it with a piece of cheese-cloth, wrung out of cold water, for the same reason.

Fill moulds with fish forcemeat, set in pan of hot water, cover with buttered paper and bake until fish is firm to the touch. Remove from mould, cool and put in a mould of aspic. Chill and remove from mould to serving dish. Garnish with watercress and cucumber ribbons.

Fish Aspic. — To two and one-half quarts cold water add two pounds halibut (cut from nape), wiped and cut in small pieces. Add liquor drained from one quart canned tomatoes, one onion stuck with three cloves, three-fourths teaspoon peppercorns, one-eighth teaspoon celery salt, two allspice berries and one-fourth cup white wine. Cover, bring slowly to the boiling point and let simmer two hours. Strain, cool and add three-fourths tablespoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper and two tablespoons lemon juice. Soak eight tablespoons granulated gelatine in one-fourth cup cold water, add to stock and clear. To each quart of cleared stock add three tablespoons white wine and two teaspoons tarragon vinegar.

Lobster in Aspic

Wipe and cut one pound halibut (cut from nape) in small pieces. Put in stewpan, add body bones and meat contained therein of two one-and-one-half-pound lobsters, three pints cold water, bring gradually to the boiling point and let simmer one and one-half hours. Strain; there should be one quart fish stock. Cook two tablespoons, each, chopped carrot, onion, and celery, two sprigs parsley, bit of bay leaf and one and one-half teaspoons peppercorns with one cup white wine eight minutes. Strain, add to fish stock and season with salt, cayenne and lemon juice. Cool and add one box granulated gelatine (which has been soaked in one-fourth cup cold water thirty minutes) and whites two eggs. Put on range and stir constantly until boiling point is reached. Remove to back of range and let simmer ten minutes. Strain through several thicknesses of cheese-cloth, placed over a fine wire strainer.

Remove meat from lobsters, cut in pieces, and marinate with a French Dressing, substituting lemon juice for vinegar. Place individual moulds in pan of ice water, cover bottoms with jelly mixture and when firm garnish with tough claw meat of lobster, and truffle, cut in fancy shapes. Cover with jelly mixture and when firm, fill with lobster meat, mixed with some of the jelly mixture, just as it is ready to set. Chill thoroughly, remove from moulds, place on lettuce leaves and serve with Mayonnaise Dressing.

Stuffed Smoked Tongue

Wash a smoked tongue, put in kettle, cover with cold water, bring slowly to the boiling point, cover and let simmer until meat is tender, and cool in water in which it has been cooked. Cut off root, then thick slice, and scoop out centre, leaving a wall one-half inch in thickness; fill cavity with forcemeat, replace thick slice and fasten with small wooden skewers. Tie in cheese-cloth and steam from forty-five to sixty minutes. Remove from cheese-cloth, take off skin, brush over with aspic jelly, chill thoroughly, cut in slices crosswise, arrange overlapping one another, lengthwise of platter, and garnish with parsley and slice of lemon.

Tongue and Chicken Forcemeat.—Chop the breast of a raw chicken, pound in a mortar, and add gradually the whites of two eggs and work until smooth. Then add gradually cup heavy cream and one-fourth cup tongue, removed from centre, forced through a purée strainer. Season highly with salt, cayenne and Sherry wine.

Boned Turkey

Singe, remove pinfeathers, head, neck, tendons, feet and legs to second joint and cut off wings close to body of a small, plump turkey; then bone (for directions see The Boston Cooking-School Cook Book, p. 24). Remove and set aside dark meat, cut breast in slices and arrange in a layer of uniform thickness over body skin. Turn in small pieces of leg and wing skin remaining. Spread with forcemeat, draw body skin over forcemeat and sew into shape. If turkey is allowed to stand before being spread with forcemeat, it must be covered with a double thickness of cheese-cloth, wrung out of cold water. Tie in a double thickness of cheese-cloth. Put bones and dark meat in kettle, pour over two quarts water, bring to the boiling point and steam prepared turkey (over stock thus made) until tender; the time required being about two hours. Remove, drain thoroughly and let stand fifteen minutes. Take off cloth and sew securely and tightly in cheese-cloth wrung out of cold water.

Put between two boards, place a weight on top and let stand in a cold place. Take from cheese-cloth and pour over the following sauce: Melt one tablespoon butter, add one and one-half tablespoons flour and stir until well blended; then pour on gradually, while stirring constantly, one-half cup chicken stock. Bring to the boiling point and add one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon lemon juice, one egg yolk, slightly beaten and diluted with one tablespoon cream and one teaspoon granulated gelatine, dissolved in one tablespoon hot water. Let stand until mixture begins to thicken, before pouring over turkey. Garnish with truffles, cut in fancy shapes, and brush over with melted aspic jelly. Place on serving dish, surround with crisp, small lettuce leaves and cubes of aspic jelly, garnished with parsley and pimiento butter, forced through a pastry bag and tube.

Forcemeat.—Force one and one-half pounds, each, raw lean veal and meat cut from fresh fat pork chops through a meat chopper; then force through a purée strainer.

Cook one-half cup Sherry wine with four shallots, peeled and cut in pieces, four sprigs parsley and one-fourth teaspoon dried tarragon leaves, until reduced one-half. Strain through cheese-cloth and add to meat; then add yolks two eggs, slightly beaten, one cup smoked tongue, cut in one-half-inch cubes, one-half cup blanched pistachio nuts, cut in pieces, four truffles, cut in pieces, one tablespoon truffle liquor and one cup one-half-inch cubes larding pork, parboiled two minutes, drained and thoroughly chilled. Season with one tablespoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon cayenne, one-half teaspoon grated nutmeg, one-half teaspoon allspice and two teaspoons rum.

When of right consistency to spread, add one-half cup rolled dry macaroons, one-fourth cup, each, chopped pecan nut meats and blanched Jordan almonds, twelve candied cherries, cut in quarters, two teaspoons lemon juice, three teaspoons Sherry wine and one-fourth teaspoon orange extract.

Grandmother's Pound Cake

1 cup butter
1 $\frac{2}{3}$ cups sugar

5 eggs
2 cups flour

Work butter until creamy, using the hand, and add sugar, gradually, while beating constantly; then add eggs one at a time, beating vigorously between the addition of each. When the mixture is of a creamy consistency, fold in the flour and turn into a buttered and floured cake pan. Bake one hour in a slow oven.

ANNIVERSARY CAKE.—Page 343.

Anniversary Cake

Bake Grandma's Pound Cake mixture in a buttered and floured round pan about seven inches in diameter. Remove from pan, cover with Confectioners' Frosting and decorate as shown in illustration or as one's fancy dictates.

Foliage is best made of citron thinly sliced. The dark-green outside makes attractive leaves, though all may be used to advantage. The little candies for the flowers may sometimes be procured at small shops, though the greatest variety can be bought of a dealer in confectioners' supplies; also the little silver-like dragées, which are so ornamental. The flowers are made on a basis of angelica, cut with a pen-knife into thin shavings, worked with the hands into small balls, then flattened into lozenge shapes, which make a sticky foundation on which the candies may be placed; candied rose leaves and violets may also be used. The cake in the illustration is decorated with daisies and chrysanthemums, golden-rod and forget-me-nots.

The little disks were made of angelica, shaped in half-spheres, dipped in white of egg, and then in the dragées, and the conventional decorations were cut from thin slices of citron.

Birthday Cake

Bake Sponge, Angel or Moonshine cake mixture in an angel cake pan. Remove from pan, cover with Confectioners' Frosting and decorate as shown in illustration, following general directions given under Anniversary Cake.

Ornamented Wedding Cake

Follow recipe for Wedding Cake I or II (see The Boston Cooking-School Cook Book, p. 522). Line a round tin pan twelve inches in diameter with buttered paper, turn in mixture, cover with buttered heavy brown paper (buttered side up) and fasten securely with a string. Steam and bake. Take from pan, remove paper, and let stand until cold. Wrap in cheese-cloth, wrung out of brandy, and store in a cool dry place from one to three months, occasionally sprinkling with brandy. Work one-third pound almond paste with white of one egg until smooth and add one-fourth cup fine granulated sugar. Spread bottom and sides of cake with mixture, put in oven and bake until paste is browned. This prevents frosting from becoming discolored. Cool and spread with a layer of Ornamental Frosting (see p. 353) and let stand until frosting is set.

Ornament by forcing frosting through a pastry bag and tubes or cones made of paper which comes for this purpose and dragées. The doves shown in illustration are shaped on paper, dried and then placed on cake, being held in place by a small quantity of soft frosting.

1 cup sugar	$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon vanilla

To caramel syrup remaining from Caramel Filling (see p. 345) add sugar, bring to boiling point and let boil until syrup will spin a thread when dropped from tip of spoons or tines of fork. Pour gradually, while beating constantly, on the beaten white of egg and continue the beating until mixture is stiff enough to spread; then add flavoring.

Chocolate Ice Cream Frosting

Pour syrup slowly, while beating constantly, on whites of eggs, beaten until stiff, and continue the beating until mixture is nearly stiff enough to spread. Set saucepan containing mixture in larger saucepan containing a small quantity of boiling water and cook on range, stirring constantly from bottom and sides of pan until mixture begins to granulate around sides. Stir until well blended; then add one-half cup sugar, and so continue until about six cups of sugar have been used, beating vigorously between the additions. Flavor with maraschino. During the making of this uncooked frosting, the saucepan should be frequently placed in a larger saucepan of boiling water, that mixture may be kept at a uniform lukewarm temperature. To keep the frosting smooth and creamy, the sugar must not be added at too short intervals.

Ornamental Frosting

Whites 3 eggs	Confectioners' sugar
$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon cream-of-tartar

Put egg whites in large bowl with one-half cup sugar (which has been sifted) and beat vigorously ten minutes; then add another half cup sugar, and beat. Add cream-of-tartar and continue adding sugar and beating until mixture will hold its shape when forced through a bag and tube.

Devilled Raisins

Remove stems from large selected raisins and cook in hot olive oil until plump. Drain on brown paper and sprinkle with salt and paprika.

Turn into a buttered dripping pan, and as mixture cools around sides, fold towards centre. When cool enough to handle, pull until porous and light-colored, allowing candy to come in contact with tips of fingers and thumbs, not to be squeezed in the hand.

Chapin Chocolate Caramels

3 tablespoons butter 1 cup molasses
¾ cup cream 4 squares unsweetened choco-
1 cup sugar late
½ teaspoon vanilla

Melt butter in a Scotch kettle and add cream, sugar and molasses. Bring to the boiling point and add chocolate, balancing it on a large wooden spoon, that it may melt gradually with no danger of its burning on the kettle. Continue the boiling, stirring occasionally, until a firm ball may be formed when mixture is tried in cold water. Add vanilla and turn into a buttered pan, having the mixture three-fourths inch in depth. When nearly cold, cut in cubes, using scissors or a sharp knife. Wrap in squares of paraffine paper and let stand in a cold place to harden.

Nut Chocolate Caramels

To Chapin Chocolate Caramels add one cup blanchéd and chopped almonds or chopped English walnut meats, just after taking from fire.

1 teaspoon vanilla

Put butter in saucepan and when melted add sugar, molasses and milk. Bring to the boiling point, add chocolate, and stir constantly until chocolate is melted. Let boil until mixture when tried in cold water will form a firm ball. Add vanilla, turn into a buttered tin, cool slightly, and cut in squares.

Raisin Opera Caramels

2 cups light brown sugar	⅞ cup thin cream
½ cup raisins

Put sugar and cream in saucepan, bring to the boiling point and let boil until a soft ball may be formed when mixture is tried in cold water. Turn on a marble slab or into a large platter, cool slightly and work with a wooden spatula or large wooden spoon until creamy. $\frac{1}{3}$ teaspoon cream-of-tartar	chocolate
2 tablespoons heavy cream

Put first four ingredients in saucepan, bring to the boiling point and let boil, without stirring, until mixture will become brittle when tried in cold water. When nearly cooked, add cream and chocolate. Turn on a buttered platter, and as edges cool, fold towards centre. As soon as cool enough to handle, pull until glossy, and cut in small pieces, using a knife or scissors. Put in paraffine paper or on slightly buttered plate.

2 tablespoons butter	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup thin cream
2 cups brown sugar	1 cup chopped walnut meats
$\frac{1}{2}$ pound figs cut in pieces

Make same as Peanut Penuche.

Bring to the boiling point and let boil until mixture will form a jelly-like mass when tried in cold water. Pour on a marble slab and work with a spatula until of consistency to knead; then knead, using the hands, until creamy. Put in a slightly buttered pan and press evenly, using the back of the hand. Cool slightly and cut in squares. Fudge made in this way is always more creamy than when beaten.

Peanut Butter Fudge

2 cups sugar
 $\frac{2}{3}$ cup milk

4 tablespoons peanut butter
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Few grains salt

Put sugar and milk in saucepan, bring to the boiling point and let boil until a soft ball may be formed when mixture is tried in cold water. Put sugar, milk and chocolate in saucepan. Heat gradually to the boiling point and let boil until mixture will form a soft ball when tried in cold water. Remove from range, add butter and as soon as butter is melted, beat until creamy. Add vanilla and fold in marshmallows, cut in quarters. Turn into a buttered pan, cool and cut in cubes.

Double Decker

Part I

1 cup brown sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk

1 cup chopped walnut meats
 Few grains salt

Put sugar and milk in saucepan, bring to the boiling point and let boil rapidly, until mixture will form a soft ball when tried in cold water. Remove from range, add nut meats and salt, turn into a buttered tin and cool.

Part II

1 cup white sugar

$\frac{1}{4}$ cup milk

$\frac{1}{2}$ square chocolate

Put sugar and milk in saucepan, and bring to the boiling point. Add chocolate and stir until chocolate is melted. Then boil until mixture will form a soft ball when tried in cold water. Remove from range and beat until creamy. Pour over Part I, cool and cut in squares.

After Dinner Mints

3 cups sugar

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup boiling water

$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon cream-of-tartar

$\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoon vinegar

2 drops oil of peppermint

Put ingredients, except peppermint, in saucepan, bring to the boiling point and let boil, without stirring, until mixture will become brittle when tried in cold water. Pour on a buttered large platter. As soon as edges cool, fold towards centre and as soon as mixture can be handled, pull until white, adding the peppermint during the process. Cut in small pieces (using scissors) into a bowl containing powdered sugar. Stir until coated with sugar and put into a glass jar. Cover and let stand from ten to twelve days.

Fondant

2 cups sugar	$\frac{1}{8}$ teaspoon cream-of-tartar
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup boiling water	$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon glycerine

Put ingredients in smooth graniteware saucepan, stir, place on range and bring to the boiling point. Boil rapidly without stirring until, when tried in cold water, a jelly-like ball may be formed. Pour into a bowl, cool, and stir and beat until white and creamy. Turn on a platter and knead until smooth. Return to bowl, cover with paraffine or oiled paper and let stand twenty-four hours. Heat until melted in dish placed in stewpan containing boiling water. Flavor and color as desired. Fondant may be used for dipping small cakes, frosting larger ones or making confections. If a large quantity is required do not attempt to double recipe, but rather repeat it until the necessary quantity is made.

Dipped Cream Mints

Melt fondant (using once the recipe), and flavor with a few drops oil of peppermint, wintergreen, clove or cinnamon. Stir occasionally, and when cool, turn on marble slab or board, dredged with confectioners' sugar, having mixture about one-fourth inch in thickness. Shape with a small round cutter, cover and let stand over night. In the morning dip in melted fondant, flavored same as mints and colored as desired. For the dipping use a three-tined fork or confectioners' dipper and remove to paraffine paper. During the dipping keep dish containing fondant over saucepan of hot water. It will be necessary to again bring water to boiling if fondant becomes too stiff. If this does not suffice, add a few drops boiling water to fondant.

Marshmallow Mint Bonbons

Cut marshmallows in halves crosswise and flavor with peppermint, by putting a small wooden skewer in a bottle of oil of peppermint, then on the cut surface of the marshmallow. Arrange in layers in a box, cover and let stand over night. In the morning dip in fondant, flavored with a few drops oil of peppermint, and decorate top of each with Oscar's Frosting (see p. 353), forced through a pastry bag and tube. Put in individual paper cases.

cocoanut, which comes in long pieces (the kind which may be bought in bulk rather than packages), and drop from a two-tined fork on paraffine paper, to represent violets. If Violet Essence is not at hand, substitute a few drops vanilla.

Turkish Delight

1 ounce gelatine	Juice 1 orange
½ cup cold water	Juice 1 lemon
1 pound granulated sugar	1 tablespoon rum
½ cup boiling water	Red coloring
Grated rind 1 orange	½ cup chopped nut meats

Break gelatine in pieces, add cold water, cover and let soak two hours. Put sugar and boiling water in saucepan, bring to the boiling point, add gelatine and let simmer twenty minutes. Add flavorings and coloring, strain, add nut meats and turn into a bread pan (first rinsed with cold water) to one inch in depth. Let stand until cold, remove to board, cut in cubes and roll in confectioners' sugar. The rum and nut meats may be omitted.

Turkish Mint Paste

3 tablespoons granulated gelatine	2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup cold water	4 tablespoons Crème de Menthe
2 cups sugar	Few grains salt
½ cup cold water	Green coloring

Soak gelatine in water twenty minutes. Put sugar and water in saucepan, bring to the boiling point, add gelatine and let simmer twenty minutes. Remove from fire, add remaining ingredients and color green. Turn into a pan (first rinsed in cold water) to one inch in thickness. Cool, remove to board, cut in cubes and roll in confectioners' sugar.

Crystal Cups

2 pounds sugar

2 cups boiling water

$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon cream-of-tartar

Put ingredients in a smooth saucepan. Bring to the boiling point and let boil, without stirring, until syrup reaches a temperature of 290° F., using a confectioner's thermometer. As soon as sugar begins to grow granular around sides of pan, wash down with the hand, first dipped in cold water. Set saucepan in larger saucepan containing cold water to instantly stop cooking; then set in a saucepan of boiling water, that syrup may not cool too rapidly.

Brush over a timbale iron with olive oil and wipe with soft paper. Dip into syrup, taking care that syrup covers iron to only two-thirds its depth. Remove from syrup, invert iron and swing in front of an open window. As soon as cup is formed take from iron. Cool iron and repeat.

It is well to have two irons, so that one may cool while the other is being used. If a color scheme is to be carried out, the syrup may be colored as desired, just before shaping.

Arrange cups on a bed of Spun Sugar (see The Boston Cooking-School Cook Book, p. 548) and fill with ice cream. If used for Christmas, garnish with holly.

Crystallized Mint Leaves

Wipe fresh mint leaves, remove from stems and brush each leaf with white of egg, beaten until stiff. Dip in one-third cup granulated sugar flavored with five drops oil of spearmint. Place closely together on a cake rack covered with paraffine paper and let stand in a slow oven until dry. If the leaves are not thoroughly coated, the process may be repeated.

tomatoes

12 selected pickled limes
6 cups sugar

Wipe tomatoes and drain limes; then force through a meat chopper. Put in saucepan, add sugar, bring to the boiling point and let simmer three hours. Turn into glasses and seal.

Preserved Strawberries

Wash, pick over and hull berries. Put in a preserving kettle and add an equal measure of sugar. Bring to the boiling point and let boil until fruit juice will jell when a teaspoonful is cooled on a saucer. Fill preserving jars and seal.

Mint Jelly

Wipe one peck Porter apples, remove stem and blossom ends and cut in eighths. Put in a granite-ware kettle and add two quarts cold water. Cover, bring to the boiling point and let simmer until apples are soft. Mash in same kettle, using a wooden potato masher, and drain through a coarse sieve. Allow juice to drip through several thicknesses of cheese-cloth or a jelly bag. Return juice to saucepan, bring to the boiling point and let boil twenty minutes; then add an equal measure of heated sugar. Again bring to the boiling point and let boil five minutes. Take a large bunch of fresh young mint, wash and bruise some of the leaves slightly, by pressing between the fingers. Hold bunch in hand and pass through and through the syrup, until the desired strength of mint flavor is obtained. This process takes the last three minutes of the cooking. Add two tablespoons lemon juice and color green, using vegetable green paste. Skim and turn into jelly glasses. Put in a sunny window and let stand twenty-four hours. Cover and keep in a cool, dry place.

Rose Geranium Jelly

Follow directions for Mint Jelly, using two or three sprays of rose geranium leaves in place of mint, pink coloring in place of green, and omitting lemon juice.

Try COTTOLENE

Wherever you now use butter or lard in shortening or frying, just try COTTOLENE, the original—and best—vegetable-oil cooking fat; you'll be delighted with the results.

COTTOLENE makes cakes even lighter, and finer in texture, than when butter is used—and not one in a thousand can taste the slightest difference. In piecrust, doughnuts, and for all frying, COTTOLENE gives better results than lard, and is very much more wholesome.

COTTOLENE costs only about half as much as butter and there is a still further saving in the fact that one-third less COTTOLENE is required; a pound of COTTOLENE will go as far as a pound and a half of either butter or lard.

Try COTTOLENE in one of your favorite recipes; one test will convince that COTTOLENE is "equal to butter, better than lard, more economical than either."

DR. WILEY'S TRIBUTE TO BREAD

"Measured by actual nutritive power there is no other complete ration which in economy can compare with bread."

Of course Dr. Wiley meant good bread.

The secret of good bread is proper fermentation. A clean, pure, strong and uniform leaven brings out in the bread the nutritive properties of the wheat. It makes the bread more palatable, digestible and wholesome.

Such a leaven is FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST. Used by the best bread makers of the country with perfect success for nearly half a century.

SQUIRE'S KETTLE RENDERED PURE LEAF LARD

A GENERATION ago there was only one kind of lard, — made from fat taken from any part of the hog. Today there is in use Leaf Lard, made from the raw leaf only; Lard made from fat taken from other parts of the pig, and many substitutes for Lard, made from cotton-seed oil, beef drippings, oils and any other substance which has some shortening power.

The leaves are Nature's way of storing up food in the years of plenty for the year of famine. The bear lives all winter without eating, but food is required to sustain life. He goes into winter quarters fat; he comes out lean. Nature is particular. She stores up only the best, — that which has the greatest sustaining power for the least volume. The leaf is Nature's food, — the finest, sweetest of fats. The chemical composition and physical structure of leaf are similar to that of pure, rich cream. It looks and tastes different from other fat. It has a flaky appearance and a sweet, nutty flavor. Only about four and one-half per cent of a healthy, well-fed animal is leaf.

Squire's Pure Leaf Lard is made exclusively from the leaves of healthy porkers. Mr. Squire was the first manufacturer to make a Lard a little better than any other and yet he invented no new process. He made it, and it is made today, just as Leaf Lard was made in the New England kitchen years before. He melted the pure, raw leaf in an open kettle over a fire, strained it through cloth, and ran it into pails to cool. New England families were quick to appreciate the difference. They noticed a flaky appearance, the absence of any pig odor and a sweet, nutty flavor.

THOUSANDS of dollars have been spent in New England in the last few years advertising substitutes for Lard; yet such substitutes have never interfered with the increasing demand for Squire's Pure Leaf Lard. "You can fool all the people some of the time and some of the people all the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time." John P. Squire did not believe in fooling any of the people any of the time. There is no food substance manufactured which has greater shortening power than Squire's Kettle Rendered Pure Leaf Lard. It is Nature's food, — better than mother used to make. Remember the distinction between Leaf Lard and Pure Lard. Look for the word "Leaf" in the label and ask for Squire's and the best is yours.

Coffees and Teas

True to Name

There is a wide variation in the price of coffee and tea because there is a wide difference in the flavor.

Genuine Java coffee, field ripened and cured by the Old Dutch Government process, has a mellow richness of flavor unequalled by any other coffee. We import the best Java Coffee produced in the Dutch East Indies.

Genuine Mocha of high quality is rarely brought to the United States. Our own agent in Arabia sends us the finest produced.

There are four flavors in tea: "Oolong" from Formosa, "English Breakfast" from China, "Green" from Japan, and "Orange Pekoe" from India and Ceylon. From each country comes a little tea that is delicate and fine in flavor. We import from all these countries teas worth from 30 cents to 60 cents a pound, and a few teas worth from $1.00 to $2.00.

After January, 1913, we can mail anywhere any quantity of coffee or tea at very reasonable prices. You can have coffee and tea fresh, uniform, and of genuine fine flavor if you want it. Write us for prices.

“Almost as Necessary as the Cook.”

Speaking of Ivory Soap, a Cincinnati woman recently made the statement that it is “almost as necessary as the cook.”

It is. You can keep house without a cook, but not without soap. You must have it; and the purer it is, the better.

Ivory Soap is pure—purer than soaps that sell for five times its price; very much purer than any soap that sells at or anywhere near its price.

And because of its purity, Ivory Soap is available for scores of purposes for which ordinary soaps are unsafe and unsatisfactory.

More and more, American housekeepers appreciate that fact. More and more, they realize that Ivory Soap is a product on which they can rely. It is pure. And purity, in soap, is as necessary as it is in food.
